Caringbah High School Music Ensemble Program

Our school is pleased to offer a flourishing co-curricular music program for over 290 of its musically talented students. We pride ourselves as a school that places great value on music, and as a school in which excellence in music is achieved and showcased to the broader school community. We source the expertise of highly qualified professional ensemble directors and instrumental tutors to provide our students with practical experience within a supportive learning environment. Our ensemble program emphasises and promotes a high level of performance excellence, as well as leadership and team building skills.

Participation in music ensembles is strongly encouraged by many educators around the globe, as it provides a learning environment for students to develop their musical skills and understanding, whilst playing and sharing great music with others. There are countless studies regarding the positive effects that learning an instrument has on academic results, and at Caringbah High we value this, as well as the positive effect it has on our students' social awareness, self-discipline, self-esteem, confidence and creative thinking. Playing an instrument within a group opens up a whole new world of experience, friendship and fun, and your child has the wonderful opportunity to take part in the cultural and performing life of our school.
